

The County Seat.

On Monday last it was the pleasure of our editor to spend the day in Albany. In common with those who have a pride in home interests and in home institutions, we only do our county seat justice in referring with pride to its public and private buildings. The court house is one of the best in the state. The public school building is also one of the finest. The sister's school, the collegiate institute, under the management of Rev. E. J. Thompson, is in a flourishing condition and is fast becoming one of the first institutions of learning in the state. The sister's school, St. Mary's academy is also a handsome structure, and a medium through which many are preparing themselves for the duties of life.

During the past year the citizens and business men of Albany have been endeavoring to give their city prominence as a railway center by bracing up the Oregon Pacific with handsome donations in the way of money and land, and it was supposed that before this time the company would have a force at work extending their line through the valley to the mountains, and by fall another railroad would have connected this valley with Eastern Oregon and the ocean. At present, however, the indications do not point this way. While we would like to see the road built we have but little faith in the present management to do so.

During the visit we met a number of the business and professional men all of whom were very agreeable, and some of them liberal in the way of patronizing the so-called pestiferous newspaper man. Like our Lebanon merchants and business men, those of Albany are liberal when it comes to encouraging public enterprises, and some of them also believe in the free use of printer's ink. Among those who desire to reach a wider circle of good customers in this part of the county through the Express are Messrs. Wallace & Thompson, energetic young gentlemen who are conducting a prosperous grocery business and selling goods at reasonable figures.

N. H. Allen & Co. carry a large stock of general merchandise, and are very pleasant gentlemen to do business with. L. E. Blain, the popular clothier and merchant tailor, has just received from the east an immense stock of goods in his line, in fact his large store is packed with all the latest designs and patterns. He also handles the celebrated Brownsville woolen goods.

Prohibitory Amendment.

The following is the proposed prohibitory amendment to the constitution of the state of Oregon, which the people will probably ratify by their votes on the 8th of November, 1887:

Resolved by the House the Senate Concurring, That the following amendment to the constitution of the state of Oregon be and is hereby proposed:

ART. XIX. SECTION 2. The manufacture, sale or the giving away, or the offering to give away, or the keeping for sale of any spirituous, vinous, malt, distilled, fermented, or any intoxicating liquors, whatever, is prohibited in this state, except for medical, scientific or mechanical purposes.

SECTION 2. The legislative assembly shall provide by law in what manner, by whom and at what places such liquors or any of them shall be manufactured, sold, or kept for sale for medical, scientific or mechanical purposes.

SECTION 3. This amendment shall take effect on the date of its ratification by its electors.

SECTION 4. The legislative assembly shall without delay, pass all necessary laws with sufficient force and effect to enforce this amendment.

Adopted by the House, Feb. 2, 1885. [SEAL] W. P. KEADY, Speaker of the House.

Concurred in by the Senate, Feb. 9, 1885. [SEAL] WILLIAM WALDO, President of the Senate.

Paste it in your hat, voters. Have no fears that the second, third and fourth sections will not be complied with. Do not allow the whisky organs to scare you into voting no, on the plea that carrying it means free whisky! Think of home, wife and children, and vote YES!

The P. O. D. Petitioned.

During this week a petition setting forth the inconveniences which the citizens of Lebanon and vicinity are subjected to under the recent change in the mail service, and asking that the service be transferred back to the star route system. The petition has been largely signed and the department should grant the request, or in some way arrange so that we can get our mail once a day. As it now is, we are from one to three days behind in everything that is transpiring not only in remote places but in our own immediate vicinity. Some time ago Senator Mitchell was telegraphed about the matter, but as yet nothing has been done. A splendid petition we here speak of. If it is not heard from and the P. O. D. still seems to slumber, probably dynamite would wake it up in the interest of the people of this part of the state. While we do not wish to be understood as recommending an entire annihilation of the P. O. D. on account of Vilas' niggardly policy, we do approve of some method of informing him and his subordinates that our mail service heretofore was good—just what we wanted—and that they should learn to let a good thing alone.

Stop with Him.

Mr. W. R. McKinnon, proprietor of the Canyon Creek House, at Canyon creek, on the W. V. and C. M. wagon road, was in Lebanon on Saturday of last week, laying in a stock of provisions, goods, etc., for the summer trade. He says he has lots of hay on hand and judging from the amount of provisions, etc., he purchased here, it will do a fellow good to go up there and stay a while. Mack is a whole-souled, genial, good fellow, and deserves the liberal patronage given him by the traveling public. As a mountain resort his place is superior to any on the way to Eastern Oregon.

Organized.

The Seco amendment league perfected its organization on Monday last at 1 o'clock. This league will do a splendid work during the campaign. On Monday evening a rousing public meeting was held there under the direction of the W. C. T. U. The meeting was addressed by Rev. C. A. Woolley. Reading, songs, and five minute speeches made up the programme of exercises for the evening.

Local and General.

The Salem fire companies have all decided not to participate in the state tournament this year. There was a large attendance at the session of the Oregon Presbytery, at Eugene City last week. Beginning with May second, mail will be carried on the Oregon Pacific R. R. from Albany to the bay. From what we can learn by conversation with farmers, a large acreage of potatoes will be planted this year. Mr. H. C. Moran of Sweet Home, was in town Thursday, from whom we learn things are on the improve in that section. While out riding last Sunday, Dr. Lamborn had the misfortune to break one of the axles of his buggy. Fortunately no other damage was done. The delinquent tax list reported by Sheriff Smith to the county court a few days ago, amounts to about $12,000. This is a good showing, being less than usual.

Over 25,000 sheep pelts and 1,000 cat skins have been handled at The Dalles this year. The shows a loss of stock in Wasco county the past winter of $70,000. A United States mail weigher is now weighing the mail on the Oregon Pacific route. The average weight of the mail for thirty days will be used as the basis in letting the contract. Milton W. Parsons, Esq., special agent for the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company, was in our city Thursday, Mr. Parsons is a very agreeable gentleman to do business with. We understand the Methodists of Lebanon have purchased ground near Esquire Smith's residence for church purposes, which will probably soon commence the erection of a church thereon. A Prineville post stalks forth with this: "The sun comes forth, the goose flies north, the wind blows long and drear. The kid with his kite, the freemason dog fight, all prove that spring is here."

J. M. Ralston on his return from Eugene Thursday evening learned that a clue to the Ford murder case had been obtained, which will probably lead to the arrest of two parties who have been strongly suspected. We would urge upon those interested in temperance to attend the amendment league of this city which meets every Friday evening. Come and bring your friends. The exercises will be much more interesting as the work proceeds. Ashland paper of April 15: Word reaches us from Linkville that the youngest son of Wm. Roberts, of Ashland Valley, has been murdered, but no particulars whatever as to when, where, or how the tragedy occurred could be obtained yesterday.

Mr. Curt B. Winn, the accommodation agent for Wells, Fargo & Co., at Albany has kindly consented to send all letters to Lebanon which are put in his office, previous to 6 o'clock p. m. This will be quite a relief to us in getting immediate answers to important letters. The Dolce Far Niente club of Albany gave one of their popular parties at the opera house on Thursday evening. It was a capital affair, and we hereby congratulate all who attended in having a good time. Mr. John Carroll, of Solaville, called Thursday and ordered THE EXPRESS sent to his father, Mr. Samuel Carroll, residing in Crook county. The old gentleman was one of the first residents in this community, having settled here on what is known as the Stringer place in 1847—just forty years ago.

Rev. James A. Campbell recently organized a Christian church, with twenty-eight members, at Gales creek, Washington county. Fourteen were received by statement and letter, and another five by confession and baptism. Three confessed, who will be baptized in the near future, making a total of thirty-one members. On Wednesday last Mr. Joseph Nixon took charge of the St. Charles hotel. However he will use the change hotel as a lodging house. Mr. Nixon has long been identified with the hotel business, and we take pleasure in bespeaking for him a liberal patronage, not that he is capable of furnishing ample and good accommodations. The U. S. grand jury at Portland, last Tuesday, found an indictment, covering 189 pages, against H. C. Owen, W. H. Barnhart and R. V. Ankney, charging them with conspiracy to defraud the United States of large tracts of land situated in the state of Oregon. Owen and Barnhart were arrested, when they gave $500 bonds each and were allowed their liberty. Ankney is somewhere in the east.

At Salem on Friday of last week Kliner & Beck, the brewers arrested Friday for violating the Sunday ordinance, pleaded guilty and were fined by Recorder Strickler $10 and costs, amounting in all to $25. Witnesses who had been subpoenaed and who did not want to appear probably induced the defendants to take this action when the general supposition was that it would be made a test case. James E. Lyons and Miss Woodman, teachers in the deaf and dumb school, have been discharged by the board of directors, upon the instance of Superintendent Knight, for conspiracy against him to remove him from the superintendency of the school. They made charges that he had been extravagant in buying books, supplies, etc., and were unable to make the charges good. On Monday last Lyons appeared at the school and started to make trouble, but policeman was sent for and trouble avoided.

From our efficient Brownsville correspondent we learn that the Odd Fellows of Colburg and Brownsville will, on Tuesday, the 29th inst., give an excursion over the Oregonian railway, from Colburg to Silverton. The rates of fare have been placed at a very low figure, giving all who wish an opportunity to enjoy a day's picnicking as a trivial matter. Arriving at Silverton a pleasant time may be passed, listening to some able speeches and choice musical selections by the brass band secured for the occasion. All attendants are requested to bring along their lunch, as this will be a basket picnic. The train will arrive at Lebanon Junction at 9:00 A. M., and at Leng's station 9:15 A. M., where any persons from Lebanon and vicinity can join and with them, enjoy a day of pleasure. We hope to see a number from here take advantage of the low fare and have a good time. Tickets for the round trip, from stations north of Brownsville, 50 cents. Passengers should be at the stations on good early time.

Notice.

Any information concerning the whereabouts of R. L. James, once a resident of Lebanon, will be thankfully received by Postmaster Montague of this place. Papers please copy.

A fine assortment of novels by standard authors, at Beard's drug store.

Brownsville News.

April 21. Dr. J. W. Starr and P. W. Starr, visited Albany on Friday last. Hamden & Bailey's colored minstrels on the evening of Saturday last, played to a good house at the North Brownsville city hall. At the first town election held in Joseph, Wallawa county, E. J. Forsythe, formerly of Brownsville, was elected mayor. Mrs. Clarissa Brown, who was 82 years of age on the 11th of this month, is rapidly recovering from her recent attack of sickness. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Goddard, accompanied by their little daughter, passed Sunday with their Brownsville friends, returning to Portland on the following Monday. H. W. Goddard, auditor of freight and ticket accounts of the Oregonian Ry. Co., on Saturday last transferred the depot agency at this place from N. Matheson to J. D. Montgomery. Calapooya Lodge No. 43, I. O. O. F. of Brownsville, have elected as representatives to the grand lodge, which convenes in East Portland, May 17, C. H. Elsvick and A. M. Templeton. The smiling face of Milton W. Parsons, special agent for the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co., of California, was seen on our streets during the past week, and all desiring have received policies for benefits to be received, should they unfortunately suffer from those accidental vicissitudes, to which "all men" are liable. G. P. Cosnow, Jr., has been appointed local agent for the company, and will attend to the wants of all those desiring life or accident policies.

EXCURSION. On April 29th, the members of West Point Lodge, No. 62, I. O. O. F. of Colburg, and Calapooya Lodge, No. 43, I. O. O. F. of Brownsville, will give an anniversary excursion over the Oregonian Railway, from Colburg to Silverton and return. The excursion train will leave Colburg at 6:15 A. M., Brownsville at 8 A. M., sharp. The price of round trip tickets is $1.00 from Colburg, 75 cents from Brownsville, and 50 cents from all points below. Extra passenger coaches have been provided for the excursion, and the accommodation of the participating. Arriving at Silverton, the "order of the day" will be, speeches, music by the brass band, whose services have been secured, and an energetic contest on the contents of the baskets, which all are requested to bring along. Children over ten years of age will be charged full fare. Children under ten years of age will not be allowed on the train unless accompanied by parents or guardians. Tickets can be procured from members of the above mentioned lodges or at the railroad depots. T. S. P.

Albany Notes.

Albany firemen may give an excursion to Yaquina Bay about June 1. L. Senders shipped another car load of horses to San Francisco yesterday. Mr. Wm. Ralston started to Eastern Oregon yesterday to look after his stock interests. Geese have not been so plentiful in years as at present. Farmers, by notices, keep hunters from their farms and hire hands to protect their wheat. Yesterday afternoon, while painting, Henry Susens fell from a ladder and received slight injuries that will, for a short time, keep him from work. J. W. Sheppard and family have removed to Ashland where Mr. Sheppard will open a furniture store, the stock for which will be furnished from this city. Owing to a change in the O. & C. time table, the May day picnic which was to have been given at the depot hotel May 6, has been indefinitely postponed. Yesterday Della Lord was arrested for keeping a house of ill-fame, and waiting examination was bound over in the sum of $200 to appear before the grand jury. Jno. Graham, of Miller's station, was fined five dollars and costs, yesterday, in Justice Humphrey's court, for assault and battery. Fred Mueller made the complaint. At the residence of the bride's parents near Albany, Wednesday April 20, by R. L. Dorris, J. P., a Dirtheik was united in marriage to Martha J. Kliner. Tuesday morning there was shipped from this city nine car loads of cattle, one of horses and one of sheep, aggregating to the farmers of Linn county about $10,000 cash. Last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Fry of Eugene City, organized a Women's Relief Corps, at the G. A. R. hall in this city, under the name of McPherson Relief Corps, No. 1.

Thos. Monteith, jr., for years a clerk to Spofoane Falls, to make arrangements preparatory to removing his family there in a short time. Mr. E. H. Habicht, a German, has represented an electric firm in St. Paul, Minn., in the city, reading up the city laws and otherwise studying the advisability of establishing an electric light plant here. Monday afternoon while out hunting Dr. Woodie lost his watch and the next day found it in a field several miles from town, where it had dropped from his pocket, while he was endeavoring to get a shot at some quail. The Albany Dramatic Company have in course of preparation a beautiful drama entitled "Niagara" which will be performed here about the middle of next month. The drama was written by Mr. Stutz and presented at the company here, and has never been played in Oregon. Mrs. Murray and James Murray, who have been running the Exchange hotel will close that house May 1. The building is in litigation and until the matter is settled will not be opened. Mrs. Murray has rented a building two doors south of the Russ House, where she will open a boarding house. Commencing May 1 a change will be made in the O. & C. time table. Just what the change will be has not yet been made public but it is understood that the Lebanon Express will leave Portland early in the evening to supper here and then run on to Eugene, and on their return will breakfast here. Yesterday morning Mr. Splawn shipped from this city over three hundred head of young cattle, which he has recently purchased from farmers living on the Santiam river below Lebanon, for which he paid about $7,500. The stock will be shipped to The Dalles and then driven to ranges near Yakima. David Kirkpatrick, an old and well-known resident of this city, committed suicide last Monday afternoon, by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. He was temporarily insane, caused by a stroke of paralysis which he received some time ago. He was 63 years of age and leaves a wife and three children.

Mountain Home Items.

Uncle Peter took a few dozen chickens to town on Monday. Mrs. Woodin is very sick. Did not see the nature of her illness. A small child of Mr. and Mrs. Woodin died on Thursday of last week. Mr. Hyde brought up a pretty good looking load of hay from Brownsville on Saturday. I learn that Charlene Craig from Colorado, grand-son of Mr. Trine, arrived here on Tuesday. Allow me to correct a mistake in my last letter. School commenced April 4 instead of March 4. E. E. thinks Miss Wright is just about right. I think the old married men had better keep still. I have been so busy this week that I have not had time to go around and see what my neighbors were doing; but I suppose they are all busy as usual. Mrs. Weemer moved back to her old home in Irving this week. Of course George had to help her move. That's all right. Give you as you pay attention to the widow and the girl too, but when the girl begins to pay attention to you then we are going to kick. Everyone wants to know who I am so I will sign my name SAMBOO.

Spicer Items.

Mr. Spicer is going to Portland this week on business. W. F. Hammer is painting his house and otherwise improving his property. The N. G. R. K. has a work train distributing ties between here and Colburg. S. F. Hammer of this place has been very sick, but is a great deal better now. Clay Hartman lost a fine brood mare the first of the week, valued at $200. There is some talk of a blacksmith shop being started here. We hope it may. The school in this precinct is flourishing. The management of Prof. W. H. McGhee. J. R. Smith was in town to-day. He says the prospects are good for a big grain and grass crop. H. W. Goddard of Portland was up the road as far as Brownsville, Saturday night, and returned on Monday. Mr. Spicer has about thirty-five more cars to ship from this place and then the warehouse will be empty and ready for the new crop. Fall grain looks well in this part of Linn county, but farmers would like to see fall rains for a few weeks to finish their spring sowing. There was a family of emigrants arrived in our burg last Tuesday from Iowa. They seem to like this part of Linn county very well. Road Master J. J. White, of the Narrows Gauge R. R., was at this place Monday night. He thinks the little road will soon be paying a good income.

What Sort of Wheat Shall We Cultivate?

Experiments have shown that the value of wheat for seed increases with the size of the grain; the larger kernel yields a stronger plant, and this will bear a heavier crop; the smaller grain contains the larger proportion of gluten yields a better flour, and brings a higher price; but with smaller yield per acre the profit may be less. The volume weight is dependent more on the well rounded form of the grain than on its size; what should alike in respect to shape, the market value of the grain is closely proportionate to its weight per bushel. Grain of a higher specific gravity is usually richer in gluten. The choice in the selection is of the greater importance, as affecting the market value of the grain; it gives better baking qualities to the flour, besides a higher nutritive value, and is accompanied with greater richness in phosphate, also an important constituent of animal food. The proportion of gluten in wheat is determined largely by the climate and especially by the proximity of the sea. The English and Canadian wheats are a wheat grain with high absolute weight, but as a rule with less gluten than the wheat of Eastern Europe and in the Western United States. The proportion rises to twenty per cent and above. Vigorous English seed wheat sown in Eastern Europe yields larger crops than the native seed, and a grain richer in gluten than the parent, though not so rich as wheat from native seed.

How to Test Seeds.

The Ontario Agricultural college has issued a bulletin on this subject of which the following are extracts: Place 100 seeds between sheets of blotting paper and keep in a warm place where the temperature is about 78 to 85 deg. Fahrenheit. The number of seeds germinating will indicate the percentage good. Place the seeds on a piece of flannel in a saucer, with sufficient water to moisten it thoroughly. After scattering the seeds on the flannel, put a piece of damp blotting paper over the whole and keep it in a warm room. Keep it continually damp, and in a short time the seed will germinate; the number sprouting will be the percentage of good seed. For examining seed as to purity, scatter them on a piece of black cardboard, and the foreign seeds are readily observed. Take a good quantity of seeds true to their kind, is kept for comparison, the impurities can be easily identified. Here follow the results of several tests in the germinator, but the following inferences drawn from them cover the ground, so far as all practical purposes are concerned: 1. Age has a marked effect on the vitality of certain seeds. 2. Many seeds have lost much of their vitality from improper curing or other causes. 3. Frozen wheat is not reliable for seed, even though germinating a fair per cent, its growth in the field is of a more or less weakly nature. 4. All seeds should be tested for vitality and purity. 5. Seeds are more likely to be good from seedman than from commission agents. 6. A small percentage of impure seeds means very many in a bushel.
